THE CDFI INDUSTRY'S PREMIER EVENT

WHY BE A CONFERENCE SPONSOR?

The Opportunity Finance Network Conference is the premier meeting place for the CDFI industry. We work all year long to create the world's best CDFI convening centered on outstanding networking opportunities; a high-value, practitioner-led curriculum; a world-class exhibition highlighting solutions across the industry; and industry-wide awards programs honoring the field's best innovators.

The OFN Conference provides sponsors with an unparalleled platform to connect with CDFIs, increase awareness of their organizations' work, and support and strengthen the practice of opportunity finance.

Our Conference attendees tell us repeatedly that they rely on the annual OFN Conference for valuable CDFI industry insights that will inform their own work, and that they find the content and networking opportunities highly compelling. In fact, 89% of 2016 Conference evaluation respondents said they would attend again this year.

Be Visible. Sponsors are front and center before, during, and after the Conference. This is without a doubt the single best opportunity each year to increase visibility with an industry-wide audience that includes CDFI leaders, investors, and policymakers.

Connect. Network with the nation's leading CDFI practitioner, who attend the Conference to discover new trends, strengthen relationships, and explore resources to drive their organizations' growth and performance.

Lead. As a Conference Sponsor, your organization is among those driving transformational change in the CDFI industry—change that will deliver real results to disinvested communities across the country.

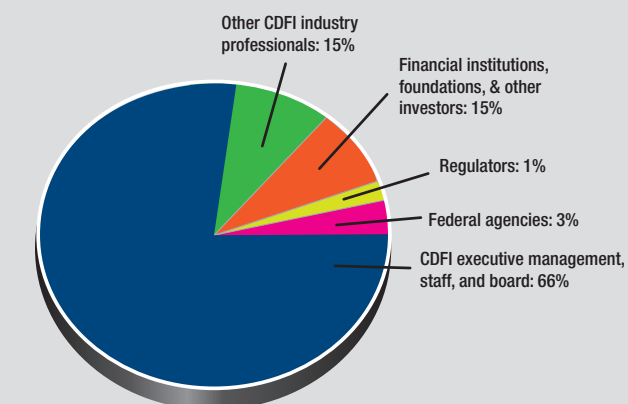

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

Each year the OFN Conference brings together more than 1,200 opportunity finance practitioners, investors, and advocates to network, learn, and do business.

We expect that the 2017 Conference will be the largest ever. It will continue to build the CDFI industry's capacity to meet today's challenges—and prepare for tomorrow's opportunities—through more than 60 sessions, dozens of networking opportunities, and an ever-growing Trade Show.

The Conference offers Sponsors numerous opportunities for participation and visibility, as detailed below.

THE OPPORTUNITY FINANCE INDUSTRY

The opportunity finance industry is a leading source of innovative, market-based solutions for economically distressed communities and underserved people across the United States.

Community Development Financial Institutions, or CDFIs, are leaders of our mission-driven industry, which over the past 30+ years has grown to include revolving loan funds, venture funds, banks, and credit unions managing more than $108 billion in total assets—capital provided principally by the private sector.

CDFIs have proved they can lend prudently and productively to unconventional markets. Combining innovation and determination, CDFIs invest in urban, rural, and Native markets across the United States to create businesses, jobs, home ownership, greater wealth, and a better quality of life for disinvested people and communities.

Opportunity Finance Network's Member CDFIs have provided more than $48.5 billion in investments—with cumulative net charge offs of 0.4%. From financing multimillion dollar affordable housing developments to providing microloans to local entrepreneurs, CDFIs' loans, investments, and financial services are delivering real impact and solid financial results in markets that many consider too risky or too difficult to serve.

OPPORTUNITY FINANCE NETWORK

OFN is the leading network of CDFIs, providing transformational leadership that maximizes the power of CDFI financing and related strategies. OFN focuses its efforts on understanding and assessing CDFI performance, convening practitioners and partners to share knowledge about practice and strategy, driving strategic innovation, and building deep and broad public support for the CDFI industry.
