

Shane D. Jett, CEO

Citizen Potawatomi Community Development Corporation (CPCDC)

Shane is a Cherokee who served in the Oklahoma Legislature and co-founded the Native American Caucus. Shane is a Navy Officer, a Presidential Appointee to U.S. Treasury's CDFI Fund's Community Development Advisory Board, and CEO of the largest tribal CDFI in the US. Growing from $14 to $73 million, they are the only Native CDFI to participate in both the US Treasury's Bond Guarantee Program and USDA's Rural Development Community Facilities re-lending program. Shane serves on the Boards of Opportunity Finance Network (OFN), First National Bank, a tribally owned bank. Shane is a recipient of the prestigious Cherokee Nation's Statesmanship Award and in 2018, the Native American Financial Officers Association (NAFOA) recognized Shane as "Executive of the Year"! Currently, his team is working to open a Native American credit union in Oklahoma. Shane will receive a diploma from the ABA Stonier Graduate School of Banking and a certificate in Leadership from the Wharton School at University of Pennsylvania in June 2020.

"I would be honored to serve the OFN membership for another term on the OFN Board.

Please vote for me." –Shane Jett
